

INDIA & THE WORLD

A HISTORY IN NINE STORIES

NATIONAL MUSEUM, JANPATH, NEW DELHI

It is that time of the year again!

Delhi summers are here, and with it the National Museum is back with a mixed bag of fun activities. This year, we promise double the fun as we open an interesting exhibition from 5th May till 30th June 2018.

We have lined up a calendar of many interactive activities and educational programs to engage the audience with the exhibition collection and environment. These include stone tool making, Harappan seal and bead making, currency design, scroll painting, clay moulding, blindfold photography; sculpture making. In addition, there will be theatre workshops, guided tours; thematic walks for kids and interesting events like treasure hunt and online weekly quiz on the facebook and project website (<https://www.indiaandtheworld.org>).

1. Interactive Programmes would begin on the 8th May 2018 through 30th of June 2018. The participants range from the age group of 5 years and above.
2. Participation is open to all belonging to the mentioned age group, at the payment of a nominal fee via demand draft.
3. Interested participants can chose more than one activity, and make a demand draft of the total amount (not individual demand drafts for each activity).
Please note that the amount is non-refundable.
4. Demand Draft may be made in the name of “DDO, National Museum, New Delhi”.
