Anywhere out of World, revisits through photography, painting and mixed media, Persian and Indian miniature traditions, perpetuating this art, in all that includes detail, ornamental profusion and spirituality. His works present a fusion of various cultures and traditions

On Pascal Monteil

Professor at the Ecole des Beaux-Arts de Paris, Pascal Monteil has shown his work internationally and collaborated with prestigious personalities from the arts and fashion world, notably fashion designer Christian Lacroix. His many influences and area of interests, from subjects to techniques - photography, digital and miniature art - translate into a complex body of work which Christian Lacroix compares to an "everyday phantasmagoria" that develop into a narrative "rich with metamorphosis".
