

Kaleidoscopic Kalamkari National Museum, New Delhi

WELCOME NOTE

Dear Teacher,

Welcome to the National Museum (NM). NM which houses more than 2, 00000 objects, believes in encouraging different visitor groups utilise and interpret its collection in diverse ways and context. Similarly, this workshop with simple and fun dice game, children discover how an object representing a particular culture can also symbolize cross-cultural exchange and assimilation.

During the visit, this resource will enable children/ participants to explore an exquisite textile piece from the National Museum's Decorative Arts collection. But we do encourage teachers to include activities that could be made part of post visit segment. And activities may be developed based around museum visit.

The workshop offers a unique opportunity to explore a beautiful Kalamkari Coverlet that is embedded with layers of information from a different time period of our history. It therefore looks at museum object in its true context.

We hope you and your students have an enjoyable and interactive session in the museum.
